CLOUD NATIVE FOR SMES

In the age of digital transformation, monolithic stacks from legacy providers are not only associated with high maintenance costs, they can also limit developers' ability to innovate. Cloud Native Computing has established a new approach to the development and operation of modern software systems, which can also help your company to succeed in digital business. We support you in the conception, implementation and operation of your cloud-native applications so that you can concentrate fully on developing your applications.

CLOUD NATIVE IN THE PRIVATE CLOUD

MTF offers a container platform in the private cloud that enables you to develop and deploy products and DevOps applications securely, quickly and reliably. These services simplify infrastructure provisioning and management, application code deployment, software release process automation and monitoring of your application and infrastructure performance at the highest level of security.
